Man arrested on I-10 wanted across nation

BY D.C. HARVILL

A routine traffic stop on Interstate 10 near the Hancock/Harrison County line Tuesday afternoon resulted in the arrest of a man wanted in numerous states across the country.

Mississippi Highway Patrolman Darrell Deschamp arrested David Allen Grice, 26, after learning through the National Crime Information Computer system that he was wanted in Chicago for violating his parole, according to Hancock County Sheriff's investigator Delbert Seay.

After handcuffing Grice and placing him in the patrol car, Deschamp returned to the stopped vehicle to run a check on a female passenger. Deschamp then saw Grice get out of the patrol car and raise the officer's rifle, Seay said.

Deschamp jumped to the front left side of the stopped vehicle, using it as shield, and fired two shots at Grice. Because Grice is short, the bullets struck the car. Deschamp was using to protect himself, according to Seay.

Grice was able to get the rifle because he had somehow managed to slip out of the handcuffs, Seay said.

Grice, who was unarmed by the shots, has been charged with aggravated assault on a police officer.

In addition to the parole violation in Chicago, Grice is wanted by authorities in Missouri, California and LaFourche Parish, Louisiana, according to Seay.

"Since we put it out on the computer, the phone hasn't stopped ringing. We've been getting calls and faxes from places all over where this guy is wanted. We don't know how much we're going to wind up with," Seay said, shuffling the stack of papers he has accumulated in the case.

In the other locales, Grice is wanted for more parole violations and for deceptive practices.

A device used to create fake credentials was confiscated from Grice's car, Seay said.

Apparently, Grice used forged credentials to establish checking accounts and then would use the checks to purchase merchandise from chain stores. He then would return the items to another store in the chain for a cash refund, Seay said.

Grice was scheduled to appear before Justice Court Lee Klein Wednesday afternoon for a bond hearing.

Wreck blocks 90, injures passenger

BY DENA BISNETTE

Two lanes of US-90 had to be closed for a half-hour Monday after a three-vehicle accident in which one person was injured.

Officer Jim Dawson of Waveland Police Department said the accident occurred at about 9:45 a.m. Monday at the intersection of Highway 603-Nicholson Avenue and US-90.

Although he issued no citation, Dawson said the accident occurred when Lloyd Bourgeois of Waveland, driving a 1981 Plymouth in the eastbound lane of US-90, ran the red light.

The Plymouth collided with a Ford pick-up driven by Sammy Earl Donahoe of Woodlawn, Calif. which was crossing US-90 from Highway 603 to Nicholson Avenue, the officer said.

The impact caused the Ford to hit a third vehicle, a Chevrolet pick-up driven by James Patrick Barr of Bay St. Louis, who was making a left turn onto US-90 from Nicholson.

Dawson said the injured person was Mrs. Irene Bourgeois, a passenger in the Plymouth. She was taken by Mobile Medic Ambulance Service to Hancock Medical Center, where she was treated and released in satisfactory condition.

Also assisting Waveland Police Department personnel at the scene was a unit from Waveland Fire Department.

Diamondhead residents await county decision on utilities proposal

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors is still trying to decide what to do about allegations that Diamondhead's existing water and sewerage systems are inadequate.

After convening for a special meeting designed to allow the board to take some term bids before some of the regulations involved change July 1, the board members found themselves faced with a crowd—a crowd that took up all the available seats and standing room, then flowed out of the back door of the boardroom.

Only a few left after short public hearings on creation of two new fire protection districts, Post 58 Fire Protection District, based in the Standard area, and West Hancock Fire Protection District, based in the Pearlinton area.

The rest stayed from the beginning of the utilities proposal hearing at 10:30 a.m. until about 2:30 p.m. to support their contention that Diamondhead Utilities, Inc., now owned by Peter J. Casano, should be a publicly owned, non-profit corporation.

The residents are alleging that the water and sewerage systems, sold to Casano by Purcell Corp., the firm that developed Diamondhead, are inadequate, in poor condition and provide such poor services that a request for a rate increase currently pending before the Mississippi Public Service Commission is not justifiable.

Although a few residents spoke at the meeting, most let their views be presented by two attorneys, Steven Guice and Bill Manion.

The residents have formed an association, Diamondhead Water and Sewer Improvement, Inc., which is now a non-profit corporation. They have asked the supervisors to form a water and sewer district with a

Expansion expected soon at GE Plastics

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

An announcement by General Electric Plastics for an expansion of its plant at the Hancock County Port Bienville Industrial Park is expected in the future.

County officials were told about a possible expansion of the $120 million facility during a recent review meeting at the plant by P. Ralph Rice, site manager.

The facility, formerly owned by Borg-Warner, produces crystals from acrylonitrile, butadiene and styrene. ABS is found in thousands of everyday products including cars, appliances, computers and telecommunications.

Rice said, "The expansion will be very expensive and internally we are very close; we have yet to go to the board of directors."

Bay officials to take oath

Swearing in ceremonies for the newly elected officials for the City of Bay St. Louis will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, July 1, 1989 on the front lawn of City Hall on Second Street.

Edward A. Favre, son of Mrs. Ethel Favre and the late Nelius Favre Sr., will be sworn in as mayor. Favre, married to the former Terri Monti, has two sons, Jonathan and Jamie, and is the former city clerk.

City members to be sworn into office will be James J. Rutherford as councilman-at-large; Charles C. Scianna, councilman, District One; James C. Thrifley III, councilman, District Two; Thomas Favre, councilman, District Three; and John W. Wilkerson, councilman, District Four.

A new tradition will begin with these ceremonies with the swearing in taking place at the downstairs front entrance to the 1905 City Hall. The change is being made as the first step by the new administration to bring city government to the people. In the past the ceremonies have been held on the front balcony of city hall.

Roger James, principal of Bay Senior High School, will be the master of ceremonies for the event with the invocation to be given by Fr. Peter Mockler of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. Rev. Van Carpenter of Main Street Methodist Church will give the invocation.

It has not been announced at this time who will do the swearing in, but the family Bible of Councilman John Wilkerson will be used for the event.

A reception for the public will be held on the grounds immediately following the ceremonies with a Concert in the Park sponsored by the Bay Business Association to begin at 2 p.m. The association, the sponsor of previous concerts for the city, will host the U.S. Navy Concert Band following the patriotic theme of the day in their selections.

The Exchange Club will assist in the decorating of the grounds for the festivities as will Mr. Jim Henrie.

Michael Cuevas, special events coordinator for the city, asked that the public be reminded to bring umbrellas for shade and lawn chairs to the concert.

Those who abuse are offered help

BY D.C. HARVILL
Everyone occasionally feels the need to pound something, but, when it happens on a regular basis and that something is another person, you should seek help.

And help is being offered for men who are unable to control their anger.

Anger management group counseling sessions led by Dr. Dan Leron and Barbara Cropp run for six consecutive Thursdays beginning 7 p.m. July 6.

Fee for the sessions will be determined on a sliding scale according to income.

The sessions are designed to help men understand and overcome the bouts of anger that drive them to abuse the ones they love.

"The purpose is to help prevent violence in the home, to help and individual become aware of the signs of his anger and teach him how to handle that it," Cropp said.

The skills learned in the sessions can be used in all aspects of life to help deal with stress and frustration, according to Cropp.

"Part of the counseling is to say you are responsible for your own behavior, you can't control someone else. We also try to teach that children live what they learn. If they grow up with violence in the home they are likely to be violent when they are grown," she said.

CULTIVATION ARRESTS

Bay St. Louis Police have made their fifth and sixth arrests in three weeks on charges of cultivating marijuana.

Michael Henry, 33, of 612 Bookter Street was arrested Tuesday at his residence. He is charged with cultivating marijuana and possession of paraphernalia, according to Chief Ray Murphy.

Also arrested is Henry's wife, Beverly, 34, of the same address. She is charged with cultivation of marijuana and possession of paraphernalia.

The couple was growing the plants in their home, under lights, Murphy said.

Michael Henry has been released from Hancock County Justice Facility on a $10,500 bond. Beverly Henry was released on her own recognizance because she has two infant children, Murphy said.

The arrests, part of an ongoing investigation, were made after the execution of a search warrant on the house turned up the plants, according to the chief.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Things are happening in our area for the July 4 weekend and many preparations have been made. We have noted the parishioners of Our Lady of the Gulf over the past several weeks preparing the grounds for the Annual Crab Festival.

It is a team effort which makes the festival a success each year.

We understand there will be a new event this year and it will be a crab race.

I am wondering what the race moderator, who I have been told is Senator Gene Taylor, is going to do if someone slips a fiddler crab in as a 'ringer'.

Delicious food has always been a trademark for the Crab Festival and this year will be not different, according to Tim Ryan.

An addition there will be a New Orleans booth this year and there will also be additional games for the kids.

Some sports and crafts booths are set up for the festival and there will also be a giant beachfront fireworks display.

The Crab Festival kicks off at 5 p.m. on Friday and on noon both Saturday and Sunday.

There will be more live entertainment this year than ever before as many of the local popular bands will be performing.

We will be waiting for the delicious boiled crabs and luscious seafood dishes.

The Annual Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo will also be held this weekend with headquarters at the Rice Pavilion in Gulfport.

John Anderson of Waveland will serve as King Neptune of the 41st annual event.

Among the princesses will be Amy Compretta representing Hancock County, Kristy Kidd representing the City of Waveland, and Julie Rutherford representing the City of Bay St. Louis.

Over the years Hancock County has had numerous princesses and I am glad to see Anderson honors this year.

We wish everyone good luck in the rodeo. Entry is $10.00 and free in order to compete.

The rodeo goes through July 4 and there are many prizes and wonderful prizes for the winners.

Swearing in ceremonies will be the swearing in ceremonies for the new officials for the City of Bay St. Louis.

There will be a large number of persons in attendance.

The Association will also sponsor a parade starting in the following the ceremonies and then ending in the Park at 2 p.m.

A local band will be performing.

Make sure you have an umbrella for shade and also a towel for the beach.

Swearing in and also at the festival.

As we know, this will be a busy weekend.

Swearing in will be on July 4th, on Saturday and Sunday.

Swearing in will be held.

Swearing in will be held on the weekend of July 4th.

Swearing in will be held a week later and is a family affair with many members from across the area.

There will be delicious food, and we will be going to the beach for delicious barbecued chicken.

Swearing in will be held, games, food, rides for kids, and a parade for everyone.

Industrial prospects appreciate hospitality

A recent visit to a small town in Mississippi by a group of industrialists from Greenville, South Carolina, has resulted in a number of new business opportunities for the area.

The chairman of the board of the new company, who plans to hire hundreds of workers, says there are several reasons he chose to locate his company in Greenville and one of the most important was the "warm feeling" he felt in the area.

Certainly, the availability of an equipped building, and access to a major waterway were very important, but those were not the only reasons. With some healthy financial investments, could have been made available where think—is friendliness and an earnest desire to attract industry.

It impressed the company's officials that a local law firm went out of its way to meet their needs. It impressed the company's officials when city and county governments met private businessmen and industrial recruiters halfway to work out an incentive package for them. And it impressed them when they were treated "like family."

Of course, Mississippi needs to upgrade its educational system and provide a skilled workforce. That was recently cited as a factor in last month's rise in unemployment. However, it is important to remember, too, that hospitality does play an important role.

While Mississippi makes strides to improve, she should never depart from those things she has done so well for so long.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bleeding sores on fish has fisherman concerned

Dear Editor:

For more than 35 years I have had the pleasure to fish the waters of Bay St. Louis, the Jourdan and Wolf rivers. These waters have for years been rich in trout, redfish, drum and sheepshead. For years the fish always appeared healthy and vibrant.

For the past few years while fishing in the Bay I have noticed a dramatically increased number of sheepshead which are plagued with ugly bleeding sores. In particular, while fishing this past weekend, I caught eight sheepshead at different locations throughout the Bay and six of them had the bleeding sores on their bodies.

I am extremely concerned having read numerous stories about industrial pollution along the East Coast of the United States where fishermen complain of catching lobsters with rotting tails and catching other fish with burns and holes in their fins and sides from such pollution.

I do not wish to be an alarmist, but I am most concerned as to the cause of these sores. Are they caused by an industrial pollutant or is there another possible reason for so many sheepshead to show up containing such sores? Could these fish possibly be safe to eat?

I would also like to know whether any group, environmental or otherwise, is presently studying the industrial pollutants flowing into and/or contained in Bay St. Louis. If so, are these pollutants of such a nature as to cause sores in fish and to cause the fishermen of Bay St. Louis concern? Is anyone monitoring these pollutants?

The joy of going fishing in Bay St. Louis and bringing home a fresh fish catch is truly a treasure. It would be a shame to discover that our clean waters are so contaminated as to cause our fish to become sick and that we are contaminating ourselves by eating fish from these waters.

I thank you very kindly for responding to my inquiry.

Sincerely yours,
Elliot G. Snellings

Resident expresses opinion on flag burning to President

Editor's note: This is a copy of a letter sent to the President of the United States in reference to a recent Supreme Court ruling.

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing this letter as an individual who is very upset. We have laws that protect our national monuments, our parks and forests, our cemeteries and our natural resources, but there is nothing to protect our flag, the symbol of our great nation.

We have only to look at Flanders Field, Arlington and the National Cemeteries to know the blood that was shed to see that this flag forever flies free in this great land.

This blood was spilled to protect the very freedom that the courts are allowing these flag burners to hide behind.

Let's stand up for some type of legislation that will protect our flag.

Let us try to remember the flag-draped caskets as we author this bill, and most of all, let's be quick to do what must be done.

I am proud to live in a kinder and gentler land, but let's not forget it is built on strength.

Sincerely,
Mrs. John "Lou" Wilkerson

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator
Thad Cochran

Senators introduce seafood bill to protect consumers, industry

Senator Thad Cochran is among a group of Senate leaders sponsoring seafood inspection legislation to "protect the American consumer and promote our domestic fish industry."

In a floor statement describing the bill, Senator Cochran pledged the sponsors would work with "both consumer and industry interests in the passage of this legislation."

The bill calls for creation of a federal seafood inspection program administered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cochran pointed out the program's goal is to "develop a program that will ensure the safety and wholesomeness of our nation's seafood and fish products."

The bill's chief features include:

1. USDA administration of the federal inspection program;
2. a concept of risk assessment recommended by the National Academy of Sciences;

3. cooperation with existing state program and agencies, and;

4. requiring imported seafood products to meet the same standards as the domestic seafood and fish industry.

"We are determined to protect and reassure the American public about the safety and wholesomeness of fish and seafood," Cochran stated.

He said the impetus for the legislation came from growing public concern over pollution of coastal waters and ocean areas, and the growth of domestic fish production such as catfish.

Included as the sponsors are Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell, Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Patrick Leahy, Senator Trent Lott, Senator Richard Lugar and Senator John Breaux.

Eyes of Americans focused on China, Iran and Poland

All seemed quiet on the world stage until the silence ended with a crash.

In China, students and workers tamely protesting for government reform, additional freedoms and democracy were crushed by Chinese Army Troops. In Iran, Ayatollah Khomeini died, leaving that country in search of new leadership, if it in fact had any before Khomeini's passing. And in Poland, voters, that's right, voters threw many Communist Party loyalists out on their backsides.

What does it all mean? Here's one perspective.

There once was a time not long ago that we referred to China as Red China. We've dropped that prefix and for good reason. While there is no doubt in anyone's mind that the People's Republic is still a communist state, over the last 17 years we have seen a positive move toward greater openness. President Richard Nixon got that ball started with his trip there and it has been rolling ever since. However, I am afraid that the ball now may be rolling in the wrong direction.

Just who is controlling China is still uncertain, but whoever made the decision to fire on those protesters made a tragic mistake. President Bush responded measurably, but if the Chinese government continues its assault upon its people harsher action may be necessary. Red China may be back.

Though Ayatollah Khomeini died recently, we still don't have a clear indication of who will take his reign. Khomeini wanted his son to take control, but there are others interested in the job. One of them Reza Pahlavi, is the son of the late Shah of Iran.

Let us hope that whatever the outcome there, Iran ultimately decides to rejoin the civilized world community, and most importantly, let us hope and pray that this change in leadership leads to the release of the American hostages still being held captive.

But in Poland the news is good. Democracy hasn't bloomed there yet, but it's certainly budding nicely.

It is a tense time, but is equally dramatic.

Officials join forces to save ammo plant

BY D.C. HARVILL
A grassroots effort to save the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant from closure was launched at a Hancock County Chamber of Commerce-hosted luncheon in Bay St. Louis Monday.

Officials from Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River Counties, as well as St. Tammany Parish, gathered to map out a strategy to keep the plant open and save the approximately 1,700 jobs the facility provides.

"A lot of decisions will be made in the next 60 days," R. Bruce Campbell, assistant to the president for customer and community relations at MAAP contractor Mason Chamberlain, told the group.

In 60 days the national budget will be prepared and funds must be appropriated for the plant's operation if it is to stay open.

The group agreed to start a vigorous letter-writing campaign aimed at military officials and to place ads in major military publications read by top brass in the Pentagon.

When the Army announced last year that the plant would be phased out of operation, they cited inefficiency of production and obsolescence of the M483A1, the 155 millimeter NATO round produced there.

"There is no way the shell is becoming obsolete," Campbell said.

According to Campbell, the country only has a 30-day supply of the round, used by the Marine Corps.

Because the plant's staff has been technically trained and is "young and highly mobile" they would likely leave the area should the plant close and a new staff would have to be trained before it could reopen, according to Campbell.

"I can guarantee you the plant could not be reopened in 30 days, it would take three to four years to get it back into production," he said.

The plant is the only automated plant of its kind and, while mothballed, the electronics system would deteriorate. Because of rapid advancements in technology replacement parts would be difficult to find, he stated.

Campbell said the plant did have trouble producing the round as cheaply as other plants could, but only because it has never been completed.

"When the plant is completed there is no way any of the other plants can produce the round as cheaply as we can," Campbell said.

Campbell said figures released recently by the Government Accounting Office stating that it cost $1,100 per round at MAAP were from 1985.

"When the plant is finished, no one will be able to produce at the cost we can. We produce the shell for $417 now, that figure surely will be less than $400," he said.

MAAP is the first ammunition plant constructed in the U.S. since World War Two and the only one whose product is made from start to finish at one site.

The plant opened seven years ago at a cost of approximately $600 million.

Mason Chamberlain currently is investigating the possibility of leasing the plant from the Army and producing the M483A1 other countries. Eighteen U.S. allies have been approved as potential markets for the shell.

The company also is attempting to develop other items to produce at the plant, Campbell said.

"We need to convey the message you chose to come here, we accepted you, we supported you, now we need your support. Don't just walk out on us," State Senator Margaret "Wootsie" Tate of Picayune said.

Tate suggested the group take a unified positive approach in their effort.

"I think this may be a time to walk softly, but carry a big stick," Tate said.

The group meets again July 6 in Waveland.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

By Lee Taylor

June is Dairy Month, and in this column I would like to salute our dairymen in Hancock County. Currently we have seven dairies in Hancock County. The dairy industry in Hancock contributes nearly $2,000,000 to the agriculture income for our county. This seems like a large amount, but only a small portion of this money is retained by the dairy family.

There is probably no other segment of farming that requires more from a farmer than dairying. It's seven days a week, 365 days a year. The cows must be milked twice daily. If the farmer is not milking he's planning what forage or feed he'll be feeding his herd.

A producer must wear many hats. He or she must be a veterinarian, a ruminant nutritionist, an agronomist, plumber, carpenter and a financial planner just to name a few. In other words, a person has to be dedicated to be successful in this field of agriculture.

So, the next time you drink that glass of milk or you're eating your cereal, think about the dairy producer that made it all possible.

BEEF

Beef prices are at a good level at this time. Producers in Hancock County should do everything possible to take advantage of the market high. Pastures should be fertilized according to soil test.

Calves should be implanted with growth hormones to obtain greater weaning weights. Horn flies should be controlled to cut down in this parasitizing of the cattle. If cattle look unhealthy they should be wormed with a suitable product.

provide a finished product, as the facility now produces an intermediate resin supplied to internal manufacturing facilities located in Parkersburg, W. Va., and Ottawa, Ill.

Rice stated, "In addition to being an intermediate supplier, the expansion will enable the Humeck facility to become an end product supplier of bulk ABS to customers."

Rice did not know how many new jobs the expansion would develop, but did say "they would be good quality jobs", because the expansion is only in the planning stage.

GE Plastics recently closed the PPE facility, which went on-line in 1987; it was no longer needed as that part of the facility was constructed by Borg-Warner as a competitor to GE, Rice said.

A few of the employees from the PPE facility were moved to other GE locations while most have been placed in other positions at Port Bienville, Rice said.

Jeff Barnes, human resource manager for GE, explained the company's concept of self-directed teams which operate the facility.

"Employees work 12-hour shifts and everybody knows every job. We have an extensive training program before someone starts working and a continuous training program for each employee," Barnes added.

One of the reasons for placing those who worked at the PPE facility in other positions was because of the extensive amount of training they have already received, Rice said.

Environmental Manager

Dennie Dowell reported a 52.1 percent reduction in 1988 emissions from the plant as compared to 1987 emissions.

Plant officials are committed to a 72 percent reduction by 1992, using 1987 figures as a base line, Dowell said.

Of the about 350 emissions required to be reported by the federal government, Dowell said, only nine chemicals used in the manufacture of plastic resins are processed at the plant in quantities sufficient for reporting during 1988.

The Port Bienville facility has a work force of 125 persons, of which 50 are contract maintenance and support services. The plant also has five summer students.

Opened by Borg-Warner Chemicals in 1982, the facility was taken over by GE Plastics when General Electric bought Borg-Warner in 1988.

WAVELAND REGIONAL WASTEWATER MANAGEMENT DISTRICT Administrator Ethel Schott, left, and Assistant Administrator Jean Longo have received Class IV certification in operation of wastewater plants from Mississippi Department of Pollution Control. The certification, obtained after successful completion of a five-day course at Mississippi State University, is the highest available for the type of plant the district has, Schott stated. SECTION B

Time Out

By Dena Bisnette

There are several news items from the tennis courts this week, including tournaments open to the public.

Tennis, in my opinion, is not much of a spectator sport but is certainly fun to play.

It's also one of those sports which isn't expensive, because there are public courts available and there isn't a lot of equipment required; all you need is a can of balls, a racquet and a good pair of shoes.

I park next to the USM-Gulf Park tennis court when I go to school, and have become convinced that tennis only has one disadvantage—so many people like to play that you may have to hurry to get a place to play unless the court takes reservations!

Myron Labat Jr. of Bay St. Louis, a St. Stanislaus student, has advanced to a second-round match in the Southern Boys and Girls 14 Closed Championships in Macon, Ga.

Labat defeated a South Carolina player, Jason Owen, 6-2, 6-3 to win his opening round.

More tennis news this week comes from Tennis World in Diamondhead, where Pro Lis Lagarde has added junior tennis clinics to the schedule; they'll be every Thursday at 9 a.m.

In addition, the doubles tournaments are still offered twice a week. Last week's winner were George Underwood and Ray Badgett, both of Diamondhead, in Friday's round robin; and Matt Campbell of New Orleans and Patty Hourin of Diamondhead in the Sunday tourney.

Diamondhead Tennis Association is also sponsoring a cookout and tournament July 9. Play begins at 3 p.m. and will be followed by a barbecue. Admission fee is $3 and a covered dish, with the money going toward tournament prizes.

Deadline for registration is Thursday, July 6. All members and prospective members are invited. For reservations, call Lagarde at 255-2525, ext. 300.

Don't forget the fourth annual St. Rose de Lima Parish Fair Tennis Tournament July 8-9 at the St. Stanislaus courts. Categories include men's open singles and doubles and women's open singles and doubles. Entry fee is $10 for singles and $18 for doubles.

Entry deadline is July 6. Entries can be mailed to Myron Labat, 217 Third St., Bay St. Louis, MS 39520, or call Myron Labat at 467-3732 or Brian Labat at 467-5274.

The State Department of Wildlife Conservation is sponsoring five hunter education courses on the Coast this year.

All five will be taught at the Bureau of Marine Resources offices, now located in the former AT&T building near Edgewater Mall, from 6:30 p.m. until 10 p.m., with one 9 a.m. firing range session at the Gulf Coast Rifle and Pistol Club on Highway 67.

The first course will be July 18-22 and is limited to 30 people. For reservations, call the bureau at 1-385-5860.

The Jump for Joy Pony Club Team placed sixth in a recent competition at Cahaba, Ala. The team includes students of Auriol Hessemer of Bay St. Louis. We wish them luck in future competitions.

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club's second session of sailing lessons begins July 3 and continues through July 28. Children at least eight years old may participate in the classes, which are taught using club-owned Flying Scots. Fees are $60 for club members and $70 for nonmembers. Details are available from Walter Chamberlain at 467-7414.

A swim team recently formed at Diamondhead and coached by Delta State University swimmer Lonnie Ray took 11 individual and two relay firsts in a meet at Ocean Springs last week.

A couple of years ago, I interviewed Ray for The Sea Coast Echo about some of the records he had set in freestyle and butterfly, and one of the things we discussed was the absence of any swim teams in an area which seems so well suited for one.

I am glad to hear that Hancock County now has a swim team and wish the group well in its next competition.

In basketball action, Bay High took the 16-and-under consolation game in the Ocean Springs SAAU Basketball Tournament this past weekend.

Calvin Thigpen led Bay High in scoring, contributing 14 points to the 62-40 victory over Tri-City Electric of Vancleave.

Don't forget! The Sea Coast Echo can run sports and sports-related items for you in Time Out. To submit items either bring them by our office by Tuesday, preferably before noon, or call Dena Bisnette at 467-5474. You're also welcome to mail them in, but be sure you send them early enough that they'll arrive here by Tuesday.

Right now, we are particularly interested in obtaining scores and information on local summer sports programs. With several games each week, we know there are some folks out there who can't get to all of them but would enjoy reading about them.

USM schedules football camp

Boys 10 years old through high school age who wish to improve their football skills may want to attend a week-long camp planned for July at the University of Southern Mississippi.

The camp, scheduled for July 16-20, will include team activities and individualized instruction for participants. USM head football coach Curley Hallman will direct the camp, assisted by coaches and athletic trainers.

All activities will take place on the USM Hattiesburg campus. The registration fee is $170 per person, which covers housing and meals for full-time campers, or $110 for day campers. Registration deadline is July 7. Group rates are available for teams of five or more.

For more information or to register, call the USM Division of Lifelong Learning at (601) 266-4190.

Diamondhead swimming team takes 13 firsts

Diamondhead's recently formed swim team, coached by Delta State University swimmer Lonnie Ray, competed at the Ocean Springs YWCA last week.

The team took first place in 11 individual events and two relays.

Ray, a sophomore at Delta, has 12 years of experience in competitive swimming and still holds several records in butterfly and freestyle competition.

DWC sponsors hunter education courses on the Coast

The state Department of Wildlife Conservation will sponsor five hunter education courses to be taught on the Coast this year.

The courses will be July 18-22, Aug. 9-12, Sept. 12-16, Oct. 17-21 and Nov. 8-11. All the classroom instructions will be held at the offices of the Bureau of Marine Resources in the old AT&T building just west of Edgewater Mall in Biloxi.

The classes will be from 6:30 until 10 p.m. Firing range work will be at 9 a.m. on the Saturday during each course at the Gulf Coast Rifle and Pistol Club on Hwy. 67 across from the Harrison County District 5 barn. Leonard L. Cayot of Biloxi will instruct the course.

State law requires anyone born on or after Jan. 1, 1979 to successfully complete a hunter-education course before purchasing a license.

Enrollment in each course will be limited to 30 people. Reservations may be made by contacting the Bureau of Marine Resources at 385-5860.

USM offers equestrian camp

The University of Southern Mississippi Equestrian Center will offer a summer day camp for boys and girls ages 8-15, July 17-21.

Participants will learn all aspects of grooming, saddling, feeding and barn maintenance as well as western horsemanship. Other activities will consist of swimming, putt-putt golf and boating.

Each rider will have a minimum of one hour of horseback riding per day. The $70 registration fee for the camp covers all activities.

For more information or to register, call the USM Division of Lifelong Learning at (601) 266-4190.

FISHIN' TIPS FROM THE HUMMINBIRD PROS

by Larry Colombo

Many anglers take their safety equipment for granted. A life-jacket is only good if it is fastened snugly around your body. It is rare that a drowning victim is ever found wearing a life vest.

Most states require an engine kill switch. Again, only effective if snapped to your person. It can also save your life.

Check your fire extinguisher frequently. Be sure it is fully charged and easily accessible.

Most states also require a throwable cushion and a signaling device of some sort. Know the laws, obey the rules, save your life.

Fishin' Tips are presented by America's #1 Depth Sounder.

Arena football coming to New Orleans WCCL-TV49

After the season is still a few months away, fans take heart. Arena football is in the mood for a big weekend gridiron. Take a look at Arena Football on WCCL-TV49, starting Saturday, July 8 at 7 p.m. when the Detroit Drive plays the Chicago Bruisers.

The "Fifty Yard Line On The Floor" arena football is a non-stop action game played by eight-man teams on each other—each team playing both sides of the ball, attacking offense and defending defense.

The teams make up the Arena Football League: Chicago Bruisers, Detroit Drive, Denver Gladiators, Pittsburgh Gladiators and the Maryland Gladiators.

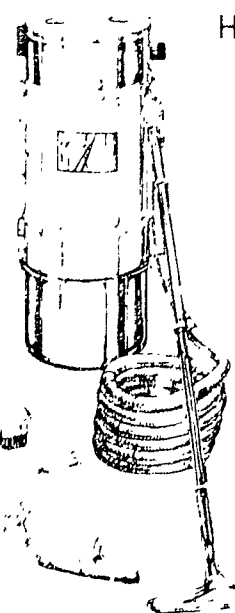

WCCL-TV49 will be televising eight arena football games in all, including the league's playoffs and championship game. Seven of the games will be televised on Saturday nights, with the eighth on a Sunday afternoon.

"I think New Orleans football fans will go for 'Arena Football,'" says George Stantis, WCCL-

TV's vice president and general manager. "Played on a short field, it's got all the bruising excitement of a regular football game, plus some unique twists of its own."

Don't deny yourself a longer, fuller life.

You can deny the symptoms of heart disease, but it won't go away. Your symptoms may pass, but the damage goes on. Often until it's too late.

Be especially alert to the symptoms of a heart attack. Chest pain and pressure are the most common. Pain may radiate down your arm, shoulders or neck. There's also shortness of breath. Cold sweat. Dizziness. Faintness and nausea.

Sometimes more. Sometimes only a few symptoms occur. Sometimes the symptoms can even be due to another problem.

Only one thing is certain. The sooner heart problems are treated, the better your chance of recovering to live a normal, healthy life.

That's why we're here. The Heart Emergency Service at NorthShore Regional Medical Center is the first of its kind in this area. Located in our Emergency Department, we save lives by detecting heart problems rapidly and providing necessary treatment.

If you experience any symptoms of a heart attack, get immediate medical attention. Anytime, day or night, you can call our emergency 24-Hour Heartline™ at 1-800-HEART-13. An emergency care professional is available around the clock to answer questions, give advice or even dispatch an ambulance if necessary.

The Heart Center at NorthShore Regional Medical Center offers a complete range of cardiac care services. That's important to you during those first critical hours following a heart attack. And although you'll probably never need them, it's good to know our heart team is available 24 hours a day.

We employ powerful clot-dissolving drugs. Drugs that can save lives by stopping and, in some instances, actually reversing the effects of heart attacks. But the sooner these drugs are administered the better the chance of a complete recovery.

And advanced diagnostic capabilities, including our state-of-the-art cardiac catheterization laboratory, help us assess and treat heart problems more accurately and effectively than ever.

We also offer educational programs that help people prevent heart attacks, and rehabilitation services that help heart patients recover faster and more fully.

Learn more about The Heart Center at NorthShore Regional Medical Center by calling (504) 641-MDMD and we'll send you a free brochure that describes our cardiac care services in greater detail.

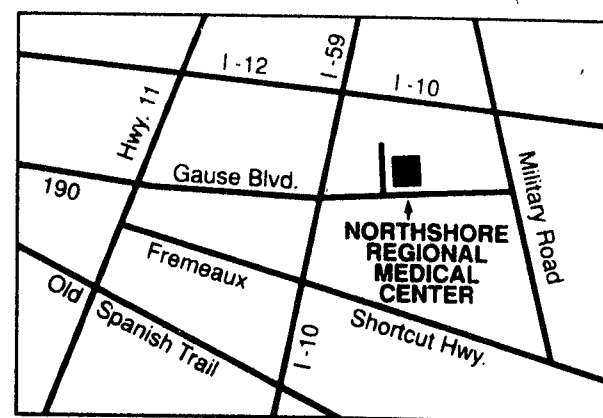

Remember, don't deny any symptoms of a heart attack. If you have symptoms, go to the nearest hospital emergency department. If you're close to NorthShore Regional Medical Center, use the Heart Emergency Service in our Emergency Department located just east of Interstate 10 on 190 — Exit 266 — Gause Boulevard. Or call the 24-Hour Heartline™ at 1-800-HEART-13. Don't delay. Because self-denial is hazardous to your health.

Air Force has openings for graduates

Young men and women who enlist in the Air Force can delay their entry into active duty for as long as 12 months, according to Capt. Joe LaMarca, chief of the Advertising and Promotion Branch at the 3546th USAF Recruiting Squadron located at 9720 Beechnut, Suite 306 in Houston.

"This Delayed Enlistment Program lets an enlistee reserve a guaranteed specialty months in advance," says LaMarca. "A high school senior, for instance, can reserve an enlistment date after graduation and still have some summer vacation before leaving on active duty."

Special enlistment options such as the stripes for college experience and acceleration promotion programs are also available for those enlisting in the Delayed Enlistment Program.

Superintendent's job offered to Magee

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board has offered Assistant Superintendent Robert Magee a three-year contract as superintendent.

The board, which went into executive session Thursday night after a budget hearing and did not return to open session until after midnight, agreed to make the offer on a 3-1 vote.

Board President Charles Benvenuti was the only one voting against the offer. One other board member, L.D. Carter, left to go to his night-shift job before the meeting was over, Magee said.

"I think Mr. Magee is an excellent administrator and will do a very good job. However, I feel there was not a big rush to fill the position and we should have spent a little more time to make the decision," Benvenuti stated.

Gary Yarborough, Linda Penrose and William Bradley voted for the offer.

Magee, who was principal of Bay Senior High School for 14 1/2 years and has served as assistant superintendent since July 1986, will succeed Dr. Roger D. Oge if he accepts the offer.

Oge resigned in June, several weeks after the board agreed to extend his contract by one year. The new contract would have expired June 30, 1990.

Magee has until the next regularly scheduled board meeting, July 10 at 7 p.m., to accept the three-year offer. On Friday, he said he asked for a little time before accepting because he wants to discuss the matter with his family and administrators.

"I'm very pleased with the offer," he said, adding that he is also happy with the $55,000 annual salary the three-year contract proposal includes.

"I really wasn't expecting anything," he said. "I would have been happy to serve as interim superintendent if the board had asked me to do so."

Favre said.

The school district request, discussed at a public hearing Thursday, is "right at their top limit," Favre said later.

The current millage for the school district is about 43 mills as compared to about 31 for the City of Bay St. Louis and about 45 for Hancock County, added the mayor, who is also a certified public accountant.

School Board President Charles Benvenuti, another CPA, said the first four to five mills would add about $30 a year to the property taxes on a $60,000 home at 10 percent assessed valuation, the rate currently used to determine taxes on owner-occupied homes.

A $100,000 piece of commercial property would be taxed by about $75 more than last year.

These additional mills are to be used for the district maintenance fund, which covers the day-to-day operations of the school district, some bond repayment and other routine purposes, District Business Manager Garland Cuevas said.

The other two mills are for a less routine purpose because they are related to a bond issue financing the district's current building program.

Using the same $100,000 office building as an example, Benvenuti said the taxes on a

Mayor among highest on Gulf Coast

BY D.C. HARVILL

When Bay St. Louis Mayor Edward A. Favre was sworn in Saturday he not only gained office but also one of the highest mayoral salaries on the Coast.

In December 1988, the Bay St. Louis City Council voted to up the pay for the new mayor by 30 percent to $39,780 annually and to increase council member's salaries 100 percent to $600 per month.

The mayor will receive an annual raise based on the Consumer Price Index. The council president, currently James Thriffley III, receives an additional $50 per month.

The latest Consumer Price Index, released in May, was 6.7 percent. If the index figure were to be the same when the city's fiscal year begins in October, the mayor's salary would increase to $42,445. Bay St. Louis' population is approximately 10,000.

In comparison, Waveland's mayor is paid $990 per month for the elected office, but traditionally has also served as head of the city gas and water department for which he receives an additional $1140 monthly. The annual total is $25,660.

Waveland aldermen get $400 per month. The city's population is between 5,000 and 6,000.

The Bay St. Louis mayor's post is a full-time job, Waveland's is not.

The full-time mayoral position in Pass Christian pays $26,000 with aldermen receiving $400.

Ocean Springs, a city of 17,000, pays its mayor $36,000 and its councilmen are paid $500 per month.

Gulfport, with a population of approximately 43,000, pays its top official $48,000 annually.

Three United Ways to work together

BY DENA BISNETTE

United Way organizations in Hancock, Harrison and South Pearl River counties, while maintaining their own autonomy, will operate together as United Way of South Mississippi.

According to Charles Benvenuti, chairman of an areawide steering committee which has worked since Jan. 1 to formulate the agreement, said the United Way boards in the three counties approved a "memorandum of understanding" in May.

Services such as centralized purchasing and a central support staff at an area office in Gulfport are expected to cut down on the administrative costs of United Way, increasing the amount of money that can actually be provided to United Way agencies, added Dr. John Kelly, who represented Harrison County on the committee.

Benvenuti said each of the three counties involved will pay United Way of South Mississippi a set percentage of contributions to cover costs.

The agreement is a one-year experiment and is similar to some which have already succeeded for United Way in other states. However, Benvenuti said there are no specific figures available yet regarding how much will be saved.

In addition, the agreement is expected to help United Way better serve the 10 regional agencies, such as Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. They will be administered through a regional committee consisting of the vice-presidents of the three counties' United Way organizations.

Benvenuti said the agreement will also protect local agencies, those which operate in only one county, by insuring that they receive at least the same amount of funding as the year before.

Other new measures make pledging contributions easier for people who live in one county and work in another, because they will be able to designate the county in which the money should be used, said Kelly.

Edith McDonald, who represented South Pearl River County United Way, said she feels the move will not only strengthen United Way's ability to serve its agencies, but will strengthen the campaign.

With centralized communications, United Way will be able to present a single, cohesive message to the public during its campaigns rather than several possibly conflicting messages.

She said this year's theme is "The Vital Link" and emphasizes the link between the donor and the agency giving the actual services.

As in past campaigns, the individual county United Way organizations will set contribution goals and may stage kick-off events, Kelly said.

However, an areawide kick-off has been set for Sept. 14. Kelly said the event will feature a Chicago Area United Way volunteer who, though handicapped, worked his way to the rank of Eagle in Boys Scouts, put himself through school and is now employed.

The agreement to operate United Way of South Mississippi will last one year. At that
